The Benefits of Microchipping:

Microchipping provides your pet with a silent but effective voice using a unique 15-digit code. Found pets with microchips are 20 times more likely to be reunited with their family.

The Benefits of PetLink:

After registering with PetLink there are no renewal fees. You'll have access to a 24/7 Recovery Hotline for reporting any lost or found pet and the ability to update your information online. PetLink also provides helpful templates for Lost Pet Posters.

Frequent Questions About Microchips

Q: What kind of information is contained in the microchip? Is there a tracking device in it?

A: The microchips presently used in pets only contain identification numbers. The microchip is not a GPS device and cannot track your animal if it gets lost.

Q: What is a microchip?

A: A microchip is a small, electronic chip enclosed in a glass cylinder that is about the same size as a grain of rice. The microchip itself does not have a battery—it is activated by a scanner that is passed over the area. The chip transmits the identification number to a scanner.

Q: How is a microchip implanted into an animal? Is it painful? Does it require surgery or anesthesia?

A: It is injected under the skin using a hypodermic needle. It is no more painful than a typical injection, although the needle is slightly larger than those used for injection. No surgery or anesthesia is required—a microchip can be implanted during a routine veterinary office visit. If your pet is already undergoing anesthesia for a procedure, such as neutering or spaying, the microchip often can be implanted while they're still under anesthesia.
